- Document review for estimate purposes are billed at $75/hour.

Unused Interview & Writing Hours

- There is no refund, discount, reallocation or other compensation for unused interview or writing hours.

Submission of Written or Recorded Materials

- One 8.5 x 11 single-spaced page of written material submitted translates into 1/3 of an interview hour and 1.67 writing hours.
- One hour of recorded material submitted translates into 1 interview hour and 5 writing hours.

Additional Package Hours or Pages

- Additional package hours may be purchased at the package's average rate (package total divided by total of interview/writing hours). For reference, each hour of live interviews translates into 5 hours of writing, on average. Each hour of recorded material translates into 6 – 8 hours of writing, on average.
- Additional pages beyond the max page count will be billed at average rate of package page. Client will be notified in advance if manuscript is anticipated to exceed page maximum of selected package.

Optional Fees (Additional Research, Callouts, Expedited Projects)

- Additional academic/fact-finding research necessary to create content will be billed at $75/hour. Client will be notified in advance if research is necessary.
- Identifying, creating and/or highlighting callouts in each chapter will be billed at $75/hour. (Note: Identifying or highlighting these elements in a Standard manuscript package would take an estimated 2 hours. Creating these elements in a Standard manuscript package would take an estimated 4 hours.)
- Expedite fees of 15-25% of package total may apply to projects for which completion is requested significantly sooner than the originally-estimated project completion date. Typically, completion in ½ of the estimated project time requires an expedite fee of 15% of package total, and completion in ¼ of the estimated project time requires an expedite fee of 25% of package total.
- All optional fees must be submitted with initial deposit.

Installment Payments & Project Window

- Prompt payment of monthly installment fees required to keep project active. The balance of all projects must be paid within the number of months indicated by the maximum number of installments (the "project window").
- After initial deposit is submitted, client's project is placed on our project calendar for the maximum number of months allotted for each project package (the "project window"). All payments, collection of content, writing and editing must occur within this project window. Any additional work performed on the project after the project window closes will be billed at an hourly rate. This stipulation applies even if client advises us that additional content will be submitted at a later date.
- After final project is delivered, clients will have two weeks (14 business days) to review completed project materials and request changes. If feedback or change requests are not received by this deadline, we will consider the final project to have been delivered, and the project file will be closed. Any change requests (including more interview hours, submission of written or recorded materials, and/or writing hours) made after the project file is closed will be billed at an hourly rate.
- After the project window has closed, the full balance has been paid and the final project has been delivered, if the client requests for additional work to be performed on the project, the additional work will be billed at an hourly rate.
- No additional content, whether live interviews, written materials or recordings, may be submitted for the project within 30 days of the end of the project window unless permission to submit additional materials during this timeframe is granted by Geniuscribes.
